Superintendent's Address

Dear Students,

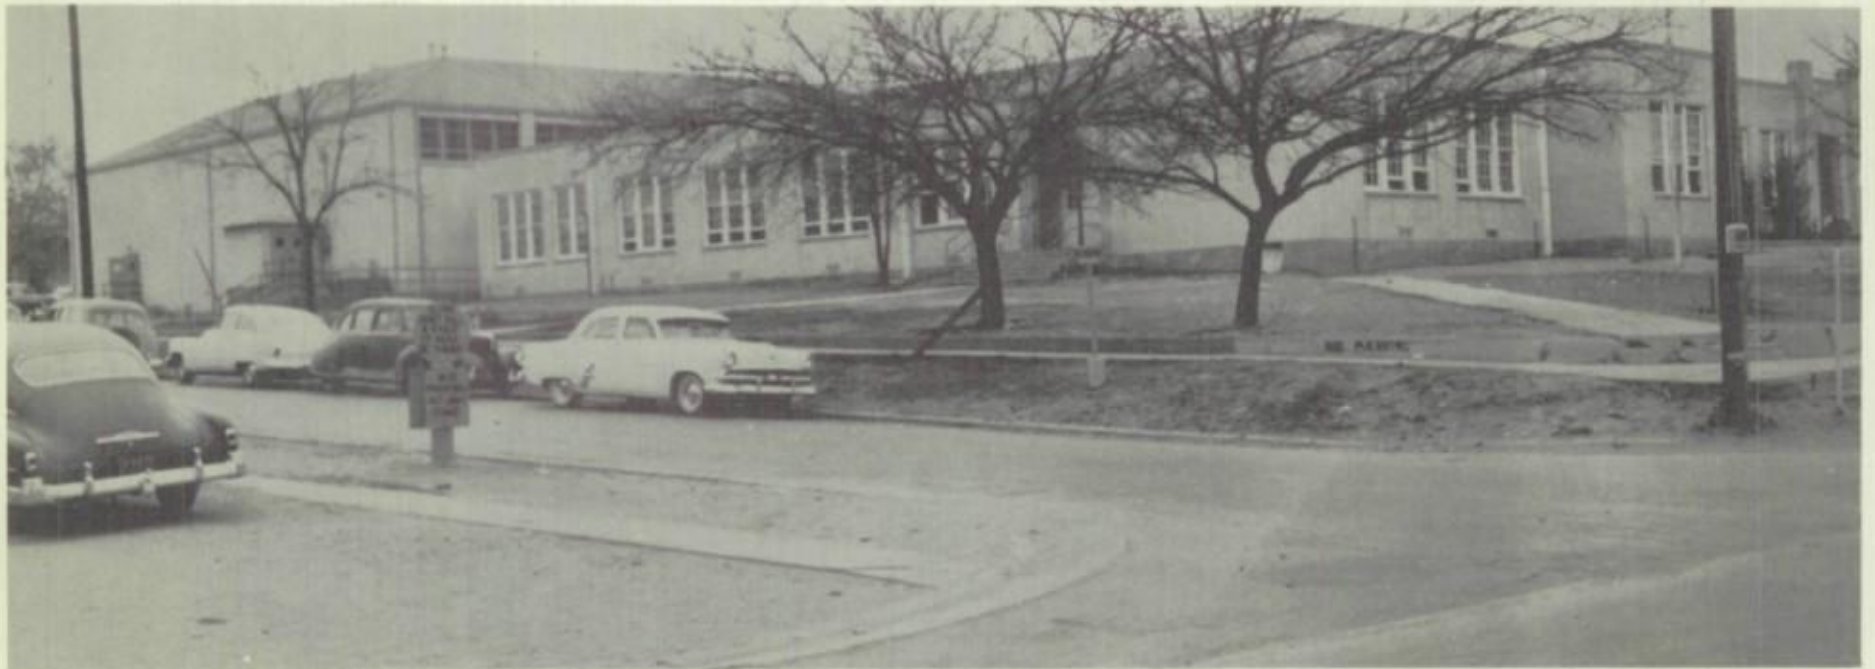

This book is a part of the history of Healdton Schools. It records many important achievements. No where else may one look in future years to find who led, who worked best, and who gave loyal support. The record of events is important; but to an educational system, the building of lives is the more important. Ability to meet problems and help solve them; to work skillfully; and to lead upward always, as well as to think and reason carefully, honestly, and effectively, are things which one should receive as the product of a real high school education.

To the faculty and student body of 1954-1955 . . . I want to congratulate you on this year's accomplishments. No other year have we received as many outstanding honors. Perfection is not often attained, merely because it is not human, but you did at all times seem to strive to reach that goal.

Sincerely,

Noel E. Vaughn
